

INDEPENDENT EXAMINATIONS BOARD NPC
AND IEB ASSESSMENT EDUCATION AND TRAINING (PTY) LTD
(IEB subsidiary)
DATA PROTECTION POLICY

1. INTRODUCTION AND PURPOSE

The Organisation is committed to processing personal data in accordance with its responsibilities under the Protection of Personal Information Act (POPIA) and may be subject to similar information protection dispensations in other jurisdictions. These data protection laws do not only impose strict guidelines to secure an employee's right to privacy with regard to their personal information, but also provides data protection principles for all personal information in the organisation's possession or under its control.

Under these data protection principles, the IEB is accountable for and will be able to demonstrate that any personal data is:

- Processed lawfully and transparently, and accessible to the data subject
- Collected for specified, explicit and legitimate purposes
- Adequate, relevant and limited to only what is required
- Accurate and up to date
- Kept for no longer than is necessary where data subjects are identifiable
- Processed securely and protected against unauthorised or accidental loss, destruction or damage

As an assessment agency the organisation, lawfully requires certain personal information about its clients, suppliers, consultants and employees and needs to process personal information relating to such individuals and legal entities.

The Organisation is committed to protecting and safeguarding all personal information in its possession or under its control and to take appropriate and reasonable measures (technological as well as organisational) to ensure the integrity and confidentiality thereof in respect of all its business activities in accordance with the law as well as ongoing risk assessments.

This Data Protection Policy is intended to ensure that:

- the Organisation complies with legal standards for the receipt, processing and storing of personal data of individuals and legal entities and to explain how this should be achieved
- the Organisation protects the rights of data subjects in respect of the privacy of personal information
- the Organisation provides a transparent system of personal information protection
- the Organisation is protected against the risks and consequences of data breaches.

3. SCOPE

- 3.1. This policy applies to all personal information processed by the Organisation – whether by employees or by third-party Operators on its behalf. It will also apply to ancillary workers such as contractors, consultants, freelancers, etc. who may from time to time provide services to the Organisation and be exposed to personal information in its possession or under its control.
- 3.2. The Information Officer will be registered with the office of the Information Regulator and shall take responsibility for the Organisation’s ongoing compliance with this policy.
- 3.3. This policy shall be reviewed at least annually.

4. GENERAL DATA PROTECTION PRINCIPLES

- 4.1. All personal data relating to data subjects and/or to the Organisation, shall be deemed confidential information and be handled as such.
- 4.2. The processing conditions for lawful processing of personal information as required in terms of POPIA, will be complied with (see below par 6)
- 4.3. The only person/s entitled to access data covered by this policy, will be those who need to access it for the execution of their direct work services or required outputs.

- 4.4. Under no circumstances will personal information be shared outside the scope of required work outputs, or informally. In the event of any doubt, an employee or Operator must first obtain authorisation from the Information Officer before accessing confidential information where any work output requiring access is unusual or out of the ordinary.
- 4.5. Employees will receive induction and on-the-job training in relation to all security standards applicable to such employee's service delivery and work outputs involving personal information of data subjects.
- 4.6. Employees shall keep all personal data secure by taking sensible practical precautions and complying with all rules, practices and protocols. This pertains to both physical and digital security including the use of passwords, communications, device security, remote access, physical access control, authorisation protocols, etc.
- 4.7. The Organisation has developed and will implement an Incident Response Plan in case of a data breach or a security compromise. This Response Plan will be communicated to relevant employees and Operators and will be strictly complied with.

5. THE RIGHTS OF DATA SUBJECTS

- 5.1. Data subjects will have the right to know what personal information is held by the Organisation and for what purpose(s) it is processed.
- 5.2. Data subjects may request access to their personal information. They may also request amendments to or deletion of the information if it is inaccurate, irrelevant, excessive, out of date, incomplete, misleading, obtained unlawfully and/or no longer authorised to be kept.
- 5.3. Data subjects may further object in the prescribed manner to the processing of their personal information (except where processing is based on an obligation in terms of the law, or to perform in terms of a contract to which the data subject is a party), or may withdraw consent previously given to process the information.
- 5.4. Data Subject Access requests should be referred to the Information Officer / dikgolec@ieb.co.za via email, who will be responsible to attend to the request timeously and to communicate with the data subject in this regard. The identity of the data subject will always be verified before granting access to the information.
- 5.5. The Organisation may in certain circumstances be legally obliged to disclose personal information to law enforcement or similar institutions, without the consent of the data subject. This will however only be done after verifying that the request is lawful and legitimate. Only the Information Officer will be authorised to furnish such information.
- 5.6. Data subjects may lodge a complaint with the Information Regulator should they be concerned about the security of their personal information or its processing by the Organisation. Data subjects are however encouraged to first contact the Information Officer to report their concerns to the organisation directly, in terms of its relevant complaints procedure.

6. LAWFUL, JUSTIFIED AND TRANSPARENT DATA PROCESSING

6.1. All processing of personal information by the Organisation and/or its Operators, will be done in accordance with the processing principles and conditions as set out in the relevant privacy legislation, specifically POPIA in South Africa.

6.2. All personal information processed by the Organisation will be done on one of the following lawful bases: consent of the data subject, contractual obligation, legal obligation, performance of a public task or to protect the legitimate interests of the Organisation and/or the data subject. It will be clearly recorded on what basis any and all personal information is being processed and the Information Officer will implement and coordinate an appropriate system to facilitate this and will ensure that it is regularly reviewed and updated.

The organisation's legitimate business interests will always be balanced against the data subject's privacy rights.

Where consent is relied upon as a lawful basis for processing data, evidence of opt-in consent shall be kept with the personal information. Where communications are sent to individuals based on their consent, the option for the individual to revoke their consent will be clearly available and such revocation will be clearly and accurately reflected in the Organisation's records.

6.3. The lawful processing of personal information must also be done in accordance with eight specific processing conditions:

6.3.1. Accountability

The Organisation as the Responsible Party determines the purpose, means and processing of the personal information and will put measures in place to ensure that all the processing conditions are complied with at the time of determining the purpose and means of processing and during the processing itself.

All employees (and Operators) shall continually be responsible for ensuring the safeguarding, protection and avoidance of any unauthorised disclosure or breach of personal information in the execution of employment duties and services to the Organisation, or otherwise in the course of rendering services or being associated with the Organisation. Instructions and guidance in this regard may include: this policy, departmental; internal policies and procedures, instructions from management or from the Information Officer, training and general communications.

Persons with particular responsibilities connected to data protection in the Organisation, are:

- The Information Officer, who is responsible for assessing, overseeing, coordinating and ensuring data security and compliance with POPIA; for arranging data protection training for employees; for reviewing and approving agreements with third-party Operators; for reporting to Executive management about compliance with all technological and operational data protection standards and protocols; to advise of any risk of breach at the earliest opportunity; and to put measures in place to respond to any data breach or security compromise. The Information Officer may also initiate disciplinary proceedings against employees for breaches or rules and standards in this regard and must attend to all request Internal or external) for access to personal information.
- The IT Coordinator, who is responsible to ensure that all systems, services and equipment used for processing and/or storing data adhere to internationally acceptable standards of security and data safeguarding and is regularly updated to continue to comply with such standards. The IT Coordinator is also responsible to regularly issue appropriate and clear data protection rules and directives as may be required in relation to any aspect of the Organisation's work - including password protocols, data access protocols, levels of persons who enjoy access to certain data sign-on procedures, log-on and log-off procedures; the description of accessories, applications and equipment that will or may be used, and/or that may not be used under any circumstances, and the like.
- The Governance Committee of the Board also oversees the ICT functions in the Organisation

Further measures in the Organisation include:

Limiting access to approved IEB systems to processing Operators and Managers

Removing access when it is no longer required

Protection of all systems and system passwords

Granting individuals access only to the information applicable to their function.

6.3.2. Minimality / Processing Limitation

Processing of personal information will be limited to lawful and justified processing (on one of the bases as set out above) in a reasonable manner, that does not unnecessarily infringe on the privacy of the data subject. Only the minimum amount of personal information that is necessary for the stated purpose, will be collected and processed.

There are also further specific limitations that apply to particular types of personal information / activities, such as cross-border transfer of information, direct marketing, automated decision making, directories, special personal information and information relating to children.

To comply with the above condition, the organisation will ensure that all registration forms and documentation required will only reflect the information required by the organisation in order to perform its functions.

6.3.3. Purpose Specification

Personal information will be collected for a specific, explicitly defined and lawful purpose related to a legitimate function / activity of the Organisation and this purpose should generally be disclosed to the data subject.

Personal information will not be retained for longer than is necessary for achieving the purpose for which the information was collected and processed, unless certain exceptions apply. A retention policy and register is maintained by the Organisation to ensure that information is not kept longer than is necessary. This policy sets out what data must be retained, for how long and why.

All records containing personal information will be destroyed in a responsible manner at the end of the retention period, or the information will be de-identified.

6.3.4. Further processing limitation

Personal information that has been collected for a specific purpose, will not be processed further unless it is for a reason compatible to the original purpose, or if the data subject consents, or if specific circumstances exist that permit such further processing in terms of the law.

6.3.5. Information quality

The Organisation will take reasonable steps to ensure that the personal information processed by it is complete, accurate, not misleading and updated where necessary.

Personal information will therefore as far as possible be collected directly from the data subject, unless certain exceptions apply for its collection from a different source. Procedures to ensure that personal information is regularly reviewed and updated, will also be put in place, communicated to the relevant employees and Operators and complied with.

Particular care will be taken to ensure that personal information is not unnecessarily duplicated and stored in different places, and that any updates are applied to all sets of the same information.

The measures implemented by the Organisation in respect of this condition include:

Annually requesting clients, consultants and employees to update their Personal Details that are held by the Organisation

After processing of Personal Information requesting clients and consultants to confirm and sign off the information as correct

Destroying hardcopies of documentation after processing, so that the Personal Information is only recorded on the IEB's secured and approved systems

6.3.6. Openness / Transparency

Whenever the Organisation collects personal information (except if one or more of the exclusions in s18 of POPIA apply), it will take reasonable steps to notify the data subject of certain details relating to the processing of this information:

- The information collected and the source of the information (if not from the data subject directly)
- The name and address of the Organisation
- The purpose for which it is collected,
- Whether the data subject is obliged to supply the information or if it is voluntary (e.g. what law if any prescribes, authorise or require the collection of the information)
- The consequences of failure to provide the information
- If applicable, that the responsible party intends to transfer the information trans-border and the level of protection afforded by the recipient
- Any further information, such as the recipients of the information, its nature and category, and the right of the data subject to access and rectify the information collected, to object to the processing of the information, or to complain to the Regulator.

The Organisation complies with this condition by issuing specific and relevant Privacy Notices to data subjects when personal information is collected – such as job applicants, employees, clients, consultants, suppliers.

Provision will also be made in respect of handling requests for access to information by data subjects and/or third parties – internally or externally. The Information Officer handles all such requests under POPIA as well as PAIA (the Promotion of Access to Information Act) and may implement procedures, policies and processes in this regard.

6.3.7. Security safeguards

The Organisation is legally obliged to secure the integrity and confidentiality of personal information in its possession or under its control by taking appropriate, reasonable technical and organisational measures to prevent loss of or damage to or unauthorised destruction, unlawful access to or processing of such personal information.

In order to do this, the Organisation will regularly conduct risk assessments to identify foreseeable internal / external risks and vulnerabilities to such personal information and will establish and maintain appropriate safeguards against these risks. Such safeguards include technological as well as organisational and physical measures, and must have due regard to international best practice, specific industry standards or applicable professional rules or regulations. These will be reviewed and updated on a regular basis and where applicable, communicated to relevant employees.

The Organisation will also ensure that any third-party Operators that process personal information on its behalf, subscribe to and comply with the same level of security and that these obligations are set out in a mandatory written agreement with each Operator.

Some of the pertinent security measures in the Organisation include:

- Data classification, authorisation and access

The Organisation has implemented appropriate security measures to ensure that access to unauthorised persons is restricted and to avoid sharing of the information.

Paper-based or other physical records are kept in a secure place which only authorised persons can view or access.

Security measures include the use of up to date software, and appropriate back-up and recovery solutions for electronic data. Cyber security measures pertaining to password protocols, removable media use, data portability, device use and sharing, remote access, authorisations, encryption, email systems and protecting against cyber-attacks of any kind will be updated annually to ensure secure storage.
- Transferring personal information and communications

Personal information will only be transferred or sent to any person or entity directly authorised to receive it. Internal email protocols are in place to ensure that only-authorised recipients receive information, and that long email threads do not inadvertently disclose confidential or personal information.

IT protocols will also be developed and implemented to ensure the proper encryption so that personal information is sent in protected form to authorised recipients.
- Sharing personal information

Personal information will only be shared with authorised employee's or company representatives based on the agreement with the data subject.. The sharing of information will also comply with the Privacy Notice issued to the data subject and, if required, where the consent of the data subject has been obtained. Employees are required to a non-disclosure agreement in which they agree to observe the necessary protocols when handling personal information of data subjects.

Personal information will only be shared with third parties once certain safeguards and/or contractual arrangements which includes provisions relating to data protection and subject to the same restrictions as set out above have been put in place.
- Device security and acceptable use of personal information

Internal computer/device policies are in place to ensure that personal information is secure when devices are left unattended.

- Disposal of personal information

Internal IT procedures exist to ensure that when personal information is deleted the data will not be recoverable or re-identifiable. Internal equipment procedures also ensures that Personal Information is removed from electronic devices/equipment before it's discarded. Paper based records will be shredded to a size that is illegible after the retention period.

6.3.8. Data subject participation

Data subjects will have the right to be involved in the processing of their personal information and have other rights in this regard, as outlined in paragraph 5 above.

6.4. Account numbers

The Organisation will appropriately protect account numbers of data subjects.

The Organisation will not knowingly or recklessly obtain, disclose or procure account numbers in an unauthorised manner, or sell such a number.

The Organisation understands that it could constitute a criminal offence if it sells an account number or ought to have foreseen the risks in the regard, but failed to take reasonable steps to address the risks.

6.5. Direct marketing

The Organisation will abide by the privacy rules in terms of POPIA for marketing by electronic means to potential or existing clients.

Prior consent from potential recipients will be explicitly obtained (in the prescribed manner) before marketing material (including emails, newsletters, texts) is sent to them. Recipients will be approached once for permission to receive marketing material from the organisation. The option to withdraw consent, opt-out or unsubscribe will be clearly indicated in each subsequent communication.

The Organisation may send marketing texts or emails to existing clients if the contact details were obtained in the course of business to that person/company or if similar products or services are being marketed. The client will be given an opportunity to opt out of marketing when first collecting the details and in every subsequent message.

7. TRANSFERRING PERSONAL INFORMATION TO A COUNTRY OUTSIDE OF SOUTH AFRICA

The Organisation will as far as possible ensure that the transfer of personal information to a recipient in a foreign country only takes place if there are adequate / similar levels of data protection in place – either by way of laws applicable to that country, or in terms of Binding Corporate Rules or a binding Transborder data processing agreement.

The data subject may however nevertheless consent to the cross-border transfer of their personal information; or such a transfer may take place if it is necessary in connection with a contract between the organisation and the data subject, or a contract concluded in the data subject's interest or to their benefit.

The Organisation may obtain prior authorisation for the cross-border transfer of special personal information or personal information relating to children, that may be subject to prior authorisation from the Information Regulator if the foreign country does not provide an adequate level of protection as required in terms of POPIA.

8. DATA BREACHES / SECURITY COMPROMISES

Where there are reasonable grounds to believe that the personal information of a data subject has been accessed or acquired by any unauthorised person, the Organisation will notify the Regulator; and the affected data subject(s) (unless the identity of such data subject cannot be established or it will impede a criminal investigation).

This notification and the Organisation's response to a data breach, will be dealt with in terms of the Incident Response Plan developed by the Information Officer.

The Incident Response Plan includes specific reporting protocols and forms whenever a security compromise is found or suspected. The investigation and reports to data subjects and or the Regulator will be made by the Information Officer as the responsible party.

The Information Officer will ensure that all relevant employees and Operators are made aware of the contents of the Incident Response Plan.

9. DATA PROTECTION IMPACT ASSESSMENTS AND PRIVACY BY DESIGN

The Organisation is committed to making data protection and privacy of data subjects a priority in all aspects of its business activities. To this end, the organisation's privacy strategy provides for continuous privacy- and data protection impact assessments as may be appropriate and for privacy considerations to form part of the development and implementation of all new projects, tools, programmes, equipment, etc.

10. IMPLEMENTATION OF POLICY IN RESPECT OF EMPLOYEES

This data protection policy applies to every employee of the Organisation during the course of his/her services to it, and to the extent applicable, after termination of employment. The Organisation will ensure that every employee familiarise him/herself with the content of this policy, and remain up to date as to any changes to it issued by the Organisation.

To the extent that this policy sets out internal workplace rules and standards governing the employee in the course of his/her work and services to the company, these shall form part of the company's Disciplinary Code and Procedure and is hereby also incorporated into it.

A breach of any internal workplace rule in relation to the protection of personal data set out in this policy that constitutes misconduct, shall be subject to disciplinary action and may lead to dismissal in appropriate circumstances.

The imposition of any disciplinary sanction or dismissal shall not preclude the Organisation from instituting civil proceedings against an employee who acted in breach of this policy where such breach has resulted in liability, loss, reputational damage and/or other damages to the Organisation in the course of pursuing its commercial operations.

11. RELATED DOCUMENTS
